Colour for the artist carries the emotion for your message and the use of colour is fundamental to visual communications. But maybe you have struggled to find the right colour for the job. This is a hands on workshop with some theory thrown in.

In this art workshop you will learn ...

- How to choose a colour with a reason and then mix it with confidence.
- What to do when you have mixed a colour but it is "not right".
- How the colour wheel can be one of your most powerful tools.

- How to start your own colour diary that will serve as a reference for the rest of your life.
- Plus lots of time for Q&A while you relax and enjoy yourself.
